

Name: _____

And Then What Happened Paul Revere? Summary

Paul Revere's father was a(n) _____. He died when Paul was a _____ and Paul took over the _____ business. To make extra money, Paul took a job _____ in Christ Church.

Later, Paul married _____ and had _____ children with her. Then she died, and he married _____. He had _____ children with her. Because he had so many children, Paul had to find new ways to make _____. He decided to become a(n) _____.

He was very busy, but he didn't always work. Sometimes he _____. But in 1765 the _____ were causing trouble. They especially started to put _____ on the colonies. One tax that the British would not give up was the one on _____. So Paul Revere became a member of the _____, a group that _____ the English. One of Paul's busiest nights was _____. The _____ dressed up as _____ and _____ tea into _____. After they finished they went home. This night became known as the _____.

Then on _____ Paul went on his _____. He had to warn people that the British were coming. He did this on the river by hanging two _____ in the steeple of the _____ if the English came by _____. If they were coming by _____ it was only one

_____. So, Paul hung two _____.

Later Paul had to row past an English transport, but he forgot to bring a(n) _____ to wrap around the _____. He also forgot to bring his _____. Paul got the _____ from a woman, who gave him her _____. Paul sent his _____ to go home and get his spurs.

While Paul was on his big ride, at first _____ chased him. One got stuck in the _____ and the other _____. Then he was stopped by _____. When they asked him his name they said, "_____?" They didn't want to let him go, so he became their _____. When they got to _____ they heard _____. The _____ wanted to get back to their own soldiers, so they let the _____ go.

While John Hancock and Samuel Adams were leaving _____, John Hancock remembered that they had left a(n) _____ with _____ papers in it in a Lexington _____. _____ and _____ went back to get it. Suddenly some troops appeared. There was gunfire, but Paul didn't _____. He was doing his _____ by moving the _____ to safety. The battles of _____ and _____ began the American _____.

At the end of the war, Paul went back to _____ and told stories to his _____, who asked, "_____."